

International Law & International Humanitarian Law

From 22 June to 10 July 2026

At the University of Geneva / Carl-Vogt 66 Room CVo1

“Visiting important institutions for international politics as the UN, the WTO and the Museum of the ICRC was an extremely rewarding experience”

COURSE LEADER

Dr. Elena Cima, Faculty of Law/Institute for Environmental Sciences, University of Geneva

TARGET AUDIENCE

Bachelor's and Master's students, PhD candidates, as well as junior professionals who are interested in international law and/or international humanitarian law.

TUITION FEES

1 week (International Humanitarian Law)

UNIGE students: CHF 250

External students: CHF 900

Junior professionals: CHF 1,100

2 weeks (International Law)

UNIGE students: CHF 300

External students: CHF 1,400

Junior professionals: CHF 1,700

3 weeks (International Law & International Humanitarian Law)

UNIGE students : CHF 350

External students: CHF 1,800

Junior professionals: CHF 2,200

More here

LEARN MORE

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Gain practical insights into key issues in international law through interactive lectures, discussions, and site visits to major global institutions like the United Nations and World Trade Organization.

The program features expert speakers, including legal practitioners, academics, diplomats, and members of international organizations. It's designed for students and early-career professionals eager to explore the intersection of law, politics, and global affairs.

Whether new to the field or seeking deeper knowledge, you'll gain a strong understanding of core principles and current challenges. This experience will broaden your perspective, enhance your career prospects, and open doors in the world of international law.